

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Do you know anyone famous?

Learning Outcome

Describe situations in spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What celebrities do you like to read about?
- Do you like the paparazzi type of gossip or other types of articles? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about music, and being famous.
- I can talk about habits in the past.
- I can talk about what is being done or what has been done.

Let's Explore!

You are my personal confidant!

* A "personal confidant" is someone you tell everything to.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Beverly has known a famous singer for years. They were the closest of friends in school. Back then, no one had faith that he'd make it except Beverly. She's collected a scrapbook of clippings and photos of his rise to stardom.

She used to worry that he would forget her when he started rising. He used to tell her that was impossible. He would always say "You are never being replaced as my personal confidant!"

Beverly would think about that every time she looked at the picture of them on her dresser. "I used to know you when you were plain old Trev," she'd think.

Now he is being championed by a big agent. He has been groomed. His hair has been lightened. He is being dressed by the trendiest designers. He is being touted as the next big thing! Trevor's songs have sold millions of CDs. He has been transformed into the star Beverly always thought he would be.

This year, Beverly got a note that cryptically read, "when I'm in town" ... Then, she started to notice all of the press about the concert. Yesterday, tickets and a backstage pass arrived. Today her life has been turned upside down by a hairdresser, a makeup artist and a designer's assistant. She is being transfigured! A limo had been sent for her.

Her cellphone rang. "You used to think I'd forget your constant unwavering support," he said. "You can depend on me now."

Let's Practice!

Being friends with a superstar is fun!

Instructions: Read the text. Select the correct answer. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Beverly has known a famous singer for years. They were the closest of friends in college.
 - ☐ They were not friends at school.
 - ☐ They have been friends since university.
 - ☐ They became friends just in recent days.
2. Back then, no one had faith that he'd make it except Beverly.
 - ☐ Only Beverly thought her friend could become a star.
 - ☐ Everybody in college thought he could be a star.
 - ☐ Only Beverly's friend thought he could be a star.

Let's Practice!

He's a star!

Instructions: Classify the sentences into the correct category. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. He is being championed by a big agent.
2. He has been groomed.
3. His hair has been lightened.
4. He is being dressed by the trendiest designers.
5. He is being touted as the next big thing!

What is being done

What has been done

Extension Activity

Write a conversation remembering a celebrity you used to follow.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a 200 word dialogue between two friends talking about how they used to follow the same music or film celebrity.
- Talk about what you used to do, what information you would look for, pictures you used to have on your wall, and other things you would collect or watch.
- Enhance your dialogue with vocabulary for music or film.
- Practice your dialogue aloud.
- Read it with another student, first taking one role, then the other.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a dialogue between two friends talking about how they used to follow the same music or film celebrity

☐ ☐

I use used to and would.

☐ ☐

I use vocabulary for music or film to enhance the dialogue.

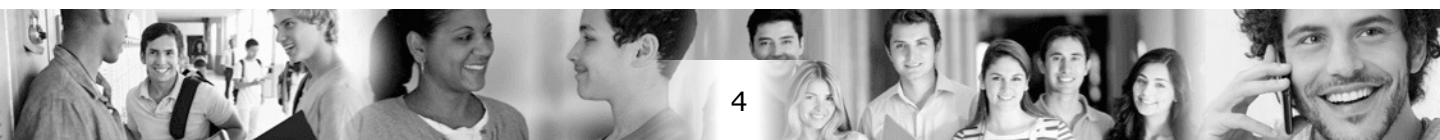

☐ ☐

I read my dialogue aloud with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- scrapbook (noun): a book with empty pages where you can stick newspaper articles, pictures, etc. that you have collected and want to keep e.g. She's collected a scrapbook of clippings and photos of his rise to stardom.
- clipping (noun): an article cut from a newspaper
e.g. Beverly collected a scrapbook of clippings.
- plain old (expression): not at all unusual, interesting, or special e.g. I used to know you when you were plain old Trev.
- to champion (verb): to fight for or speak in support of a group of people or a belief e.g. Now he is being championed by a big agent.
- to groom (verb): to prepare someone for a special job or activity e.g. He has been groomed.
- cryptically (adverb): mysterious and difficult to understand e.g. This year, Beverly got a note that cryptically read, 'when I'm in town'.
- to transfigure (verb): to change the appearance of a person or thing very much, usually in a very positive and often spiritual way e.g. She is being transfigured!
- unwavering (adjective): never changing or becoming weaker
e.g. You used to think I'd forget your constant unwavering support.

Learning Points

The Passive: The Present Continuous and Present Perfect Tenses

You use the Present Continuous to talk about an action that is happening at the time of speaking. The action or event is in progress.

A big agent is championing him.

You use the Present Perfect to talk about a finished action or event with present consequences. There is a connection between what happened in the past and the present.

Groomers have lightened his hair.

You often choose the passive form when you want to talk about an action but are not so interested in saying who or what does/did it. Passives without agents (the doers) are common in writing.

Look at the chart below for the structure of the passive voice.

Name	Structure	Example
Present Continuous	am/are/is + being + past participle	Now he is being championed by a big agent.
Present Perfect	have/has + been + past participle	His hair has been lightened.

Examples:

- His hair has been lightened.
- He is being dressed by the trendiest designers.
- He is being touted as the next big thing!
- He has been transformed into the star Beverly always thought he would be.
- He has been groomed.

Learning Points

Talking About Habits in the Past: Used to and Would

You use used to and would to talk about past habits which are now finished. There is an idea that circumstances have changed. You do not use it to talk about what happened at a past time.

Both used to and would talk about past habits which no longer exist, but there are a couple of things to note about the usage of these expressions.

1. Would cannot be used to talk about past states. You must use used to.

For example:

I used to have a dog.

~~I would have a dog.~~

2. You use used to to talk about regular, important habitual behavior.

For example:

I used to smoke.

~~I would smoke.~~

Look at the chart for the rules about structuring sentences with used to. Notice the change in spelling of used to.

Positive Statement	I used to know you when you were plain old Trev.
Negative Statement	I didn't use to know you when you were plain old Trev.
Question	Did I use to know you when you were plain old Trev?

Examples:

- She used to worry that he would forget her when he started rising.
- He used to tell her that was impossible.
- He would always say "You are never being replaced as my personal confidant!"
- Beverly would think about that every time she looked at the picture of them on her dresser.
- "I used to know you when you were plain old Trev," she'd think.

